

WHAT MEAN YE BY THESE STONES?

Was Text of Rev. McGary's Sermon at "Stone Church" Yesterday Morning

Yesterday morning at the "Stone Church," the pastor, W. P. McGary, preached from Joshua 4:6, "What Mean Ye by These Stones?" After applying the question of the text to the stones of the new church, and speaking of them as a memorial of the way in which the congregation had been led; and as a memorial of the remarkable history of the denomination, he continued, in part as follows: "The first article placed in the corner stone of this church was a copy of the inspired word of God. We are Calvinists, but first of all and through all, we are believers in and builders upon the Bible, and then Calvinists, because Calvin built upon this same foundation. And by these stones we mean to say that we believe every page of this Bible to have God's signature upon it; and that in this church we will not only proclaim this Word in its purity, but be guided by it also as to the way in which we shall worship God, lest we be found guilty of offering strange fire upon God's altars.

"We need hardly say that by these stones we mean that we believe in pure Christianity as distinguished from every other religion or philosophy of religion. We believe in God, but we preach no more theism; we believe in God, but in God as revealing Himself in Jesus of Nazareth." Confucius, Zoroaster and Mahomet were great men, but Jesus of Nazareth was not only man but God; and these others are not for one moment to be compared with him. He alone stands for the religion which takes from His its name—Christianity. That does not mean mere morality. Wax flowers are beautiful, but they have no life; marble statues are beautiful, but they are no human; morality is beautiful, but it is not necessarily Christianity. To call everything Christian that looks more or less morally nice is a mistake. Against such a view of Christianity these stones are meant to be a standing protest.

No matter how 'moral' a man may be, he is not a 'Christian' in the true sense of the word, and is not saved, unless in addition to his 'morality,' he has definitely and personally accepted Jesus Christ, and is resting upon him alone for salvation. Without that, no one can be an absolutely all-round man. To that we mean these stones to be an invitation. 'We preach Christ and Him crucified.'

"By these stones we mean also to respectfully, but without apology, express our earnest purpose of continuing true to the record and principles in maintaining which God has so blessed us in the past. Thus far He has led us on, and unto His grace and strength we commit ourselves, facing the unknown future bravely but trustfully, believing that through the years this church will be found playing its appropriate part in helping to lead the times onward to their ultimate and blessed destiny."

A very enjoyable part of the day's program was the solo by Prof. Craig in the morning, and the quartet in the evening by Misses Bertha Megee and Frankie Clark and Messrs. Jesse Williamson and T. A. Craig.

"NOT ONE COMMAND THAT WAS NOT RIGHT"

Did God Give Unto Us, Declared

Dr. Tevis in Eloquent Sermon Last Night

"Oh! that thou hadst harkened to my commandments which flowed free as the river, and righteous as the waves of the sea," from the Book of Isaiah, was the text Dr. V. W. Tevis chose for his sermon last night at St. Paul's M. E. church.

The church was comfortably filled and the choir rendered excellent music. Dr. Tevis said in part: "Every man whosever looks after God's interest, looks after his own, and a man need not be versed in Theology in order to live a righteous and upright life. Every man knows the wrong way of sin and knows that he ought to shun it, and every man's conscience points out the right way to walk and he ought to walk it. Drop all differences as regard the many details in theology, and live the Christ life. God commanded men to do right. Are not all of his commandments just? Is there one that is not right and just within the lids of the sacred book? If there is, point it out, and we stand ready to discuss it. But you answer there is none." So, Well, then there is but one way, and one thing for us to do—keep his commandments. On one side there is the prickly pear and on the other side of the way there is the helping hand outstretched and a wreath of glory.

Hygiene is right, thrift is right, but each one of these have rules which must be obeyed. Certain commandments are laid down if we should carry out the idea of either of them, if we are to set the results, we must obey the laws. Just as we are obliged to obey the laws of God, if we would have peace and tranquility, the peace and tranquility of the ever flowing river.

"Righteous as the waves of the sea." The waves we all know are a surface agitation, while all below is quite and undisturbed. So is the righteous man. He is deep, profound—the good in him—like [the mighty, mighty deep below. Some men plot and scheme to do evil things, but the good in the righteous man is spontaneous at all times; it is characteristic in him. And a man may do good—good deeds—and they magnify like the sunlight on a thousand waves. As a music master is proud of his best pupil and sends him forth on all occasions, so is God proud of the men who do good deeds, and is with them on all occasions as they do heroic things in God's name, which multiply and magnify before men. Of course there has been splendid and magnificent deeds accomplished by the worst men of the age, at various times, but the righteous man acts well at all times."

OWEN L. CARR JR. THE YOUTHFUL CHAUFFEUR

Owen Carr, Jr., the nine year old hopeful of District Chairman Owen L. Carr, is one of the youngest drivers of a "car" in Indiana.

He is not exactly an expert chauffeur, for he knows little as yet regarding the mechanism of an automobile, but at the wheel he can master the machine as well as one twice his age, and size, and with double the experience he has had. Recently he ran the machine to Arlington, sitting in the front part all by his lonely, while his father sat in the rear seat perusing his morning mail.

—Miss Pearl Nickelson, of South Harrison street, has returned from an extended visit with friends and relatives in Muncie.

—Mr. Ray Muzar, of Indianapolis, was the guest of Miss Minnie Gilliam, Sunday.

—Mrs. Ben Cox is visiting relatives and friends in Greenville, Ohio.

SPIRITUAL AWAKENING IN CITY OF RICHMOND

Prof. Craig Says Men Hardened in Crime Asked For Honorable Positions

Prof. T. A. Craig, who returned from Richmond, Saturday, where he had been conducting the singing during a revival in progress there, says that he never saw a revival with half the real enthusiasm. It was truly a spiritual awakening, he says, and men, hardened in crime, and caloused in sin, prostrated themselves before the rostrum and asked the leaders in the movement to secure them honorable means of a livelihood.

Prof. Craig was offered a permanent position as choir master in Reid's memorial church, but has not decided whether he will accept it.

EAST HAVEN TRUSTEE RESIGNS HIS POSITION

Joseph A. Cowing will attend the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees of the East Haven asylum in Richmond tomorrow. C. K. McCullough, a wealthy banker of Anderson, and a brother-in-law of former Governor Durbin, the Democratic appointee of the board of trustees, has resigned his position on the board owing to a "surprise party" of Tuesday last, when he was elected to the State Legislature by a nice plurality. Mr. McCullough entertained no idea of being elected, as the county is normally Republican by a large vote.

Charles Nesbit filed suit for divorce from his wife, China Nesbit, in the Marion county circuit court Saturday. They formerly lived in this city, on West Seventh street. Megee & Kiplinger, of this city, are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

Peter Johnson, the well known colored farmer, moved from his farm, southeast of this city to East Eleventh street, Saturday. Pete will probably engage in the teaming business in this city.

Arthur McGinnis, who for years was the blacksmith of Homer, has accepted a position with E. A. Lee, West First street, who will engage in the implement business. Mr. McGinnis and family will occupy the Behr property on West Second street.

Isaac Miller and family are elated over the news they received from Riverside, Cal., this morning, relative to the condition of James Carter, who has been dangerously ill with typhoid fever. The good news stated that he was now on the road to recovery.

A SHOWER OF FALLING STARS

Is Due to Fall on Next Wednesday Night About Twelve O'clock

Earth Will Pass Through Path of Asteroids and Little Wanderers Will be Visible

Heavenly fireworks next. Better than any Fourth of July pyrotechnics. Due next Wednesday night. Listen!

A beautiful display of meteoric lights is promised the people of this city on the night of November 14th, if the skies are not clouded. The earth will then pass through the pathway of an interesting group of small heavenly bodies which roam through the outer space in a direct course. The notion commonly entertained about space being empty is certainly very erroneous. Innumerable small bodies, dark and cold, traverse that part of space in which the solar system is now, in every direction. Those in our neighborhood revolve around the sun, which is as careful to enforce obedience on these 'specks of matter as on the planets themselves.

Just at what time the meteoric shower will begin is difficult to determine, but it usually occurs between 10 p. m. and 2 a. m., but more frequently at 2 o'clock midnight. The sight is one worth seeing and is awe-inspiring, impressing one with the wonders of the universe as nothing else could.

A HUMAN BATTERY

Current From a Man's Stomach Operates Telephone In San Francisco.

AN INTERESTING TEST

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—Before a number of medical men and scientists Sunday Doctors Albert J. Atkins and E. J. Lewis succeeded in charging an electrical circuit with human electricity to such a degree that external sound waves were transmitted and heard through an ordinary telephone receiver. The experiment consisted of the application of two platinum electrodes to the walls of the living stomach. By means of copper wires the electrodes were connected with a telephone and a microphone, a sensitive instrument which greatly intensifies sound. There was absolutely no mechanical or chemical battery in the circuit, yet the moment the electrodes were swallowed sufficiently to touch the walls of the stomach, human electricity flowed over the wires, rendering audible sounds. The electric charge measured from seven to eight millivolts on a Weston galvanometer.

Colonel E. P. Richardson, the subject of the experiment, swallowed the electrodes and succeeded in retaining them for a considerable time. After a brief rest he was given a drink of whisky and on again connecting the electrodes with the interior lining of his stomach the galvanometer registered fifteen millivolts.

Doctors Atkins and Lewis assert that by this experiment they have demonstrated the law of action of the human senses. They reason that if sound is transmitted over a copper wire when it is charged with human electricity, it is reasonable to consider the principle the same when the auditory nerve is charged with the same force. In other words we hear when the auditory nerve is made sensitive with human electricity on the same principle by which we receive a telephone message. Furthermore these scientists claim that by a series of experiments they have proven that digestion is an electro-chemical process, that all life action in the body is dependent upon the activity of the electrical forces within the organism, and that variations of sense manifestation, as sight, hearing, etc., are caused by the different rates of vibration set up by the human electrical currents acting on the special sense nerves.

HUNDREDS WILL ATTEND BANQUET

Three Delegates to Presbyterian Brotherhood From this City Will Attend

Rev. T. H. McConnell, Attorney Martin and Joseph A. Cowing, delegates to the Presbyterian Brotherhood in session in Indianapolis, this week, have received their tickets for the banquet Tuesday night. It was originally planned to hold the banquet in the Claypool hotel, but as they could not accommodate the large number of people wishing to attend, arrangements were made to have it served in the Denison hotel. Covers will be set for seven hundred. This will be the largest banquet ever served at a hotel in this State.

THE TURKEY CROP GOOD THIS YEAR

And this Means That the Bird is Going to be Cheap this Year

Judging from indications everybody can have the luscious turkey meat, the juicy duck or everyday chicken for the Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's dinner this year.

It is said that they are going to be cheap. In fact people may experience the rather unusual sensation of being obliged to pay almost as much for chickens as they will for turkeys and ducks. While the turkeys are not so plentiful in some parts of the country, in the West, especially, there is a big supply. According to advices, received by dealers, the turkeys are already being bought up by the big Chicago houses, killed and placed in cold storage. The birds stored, it is claimed, will be in fine shape for Thanksgiving day. They are now selling for eleven cents a pound at retail in Chicago and unless the supply is cornered, which is hardly likely, the prices may go still lower. The cold storage turkeys will keep the prices down. Turkey, which sold at twenty and twenty-two cents a pound last year, will not bring, it is said, over eighteen cents this fall, and the price may be even lower than that.

SOCIETY NEWS

William Wilson entertained a few of his friends Sunday night with a six o'clock dinner at his home on North Perkins street.

Miss Lenore Wooden entertained several of her young friends with a Sunday evening luncheon last evening at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. I. Wooden, on West Second street.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bitner entertained last Saturday evening at their beautiful country home, two miles south of Mays, in honor of their son, Otis's twenty-first birthday. The lawn was lighted with Japanese lanterns and the rooms were decorated in ferns and cut flowers. In the dining room the color scheme was red, and white, a bucket of white chrysanthemums forming the center piece with four red candles at each corner of the table. Ice cream, coffee and cake was served. About 125 guests were present and the evening was pleasantly spent in music and dancing. Otis was the recipient of many nice presents, among them a ring presented to him by his uncle, Dr. D. W. Kelley, of Pittsburg, Pa. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Kelley, of Pittsburg, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Smelser and son Ira, of Anderson.

Lawrence Canley, of South Pearl street, who has been suffering with typhoid fever for forty days, is much improved today.

"RED LINE" TO MEN AND WOMEN'S HEARTS

Dan Cupid Has Surely Subsidized the Interurban Line to Connersville

Connersville sent over the usual offering in the way of a Sunday crowd yesterday, and Rushville gave a "fair" exchange. Dashing young swains laid away their rubber collars, and attired in their "glad rags" made charges on their neighboring city, and sought to burn their incense at the altar of the "dear un-fair sex, the lengthy hair sex." One could fairly scent the odor of orange blossoms in the forty-five cent round trip tickets between the two cities.

The interurban, convenient schedule, and closer relations of the two cities, will naturally result in the ringing of joy bells quite often now, and will stir "lethargic folks" to action. The I. & C. will prove the line to men and women's hearts—not the Red Line, but Dan Cupid's line, subsidized by the god of Love. Each evening one can find in this city, throbbing hearts, "waiting at the church" (opposite the terminal station.)

And they are beginning to use the broad turn at the corner of Third and Morgan streets, as a campus for love making. The custom that now prevails near the terminal station (occasionally) reminds one of Paul Barnes's story of spooning. He said, arriving in St. Louis he found the police had put a ban on spooning in the parks and most public places, but after wandering about the city for two days, he found the spooners' headquarters—the Union depot. There he said, young people gather, and as a train is called they stand near the gate, and any number of couples hug and kiss each other and then they hear "All aboard," they clinch as for one last farewell—then the train pulls out. But all the spooners remain at the gate. They "hug and kiss" every train out that leaves the station after supper. Barnes says he found an old maid standing all alone with "puckered up" lips and he got in for a two farewells. She said: "I don't know who you are, but I make this eight o'clock train every night."

Of course, it is not that bad in Rushville, but—give us time. We are quick to adopt any modern improvement.

A BEAUTIFUL COUNTRY WEDDING

A beautiful country wedding occurred last evening at the home of Chester O. Williams, near New Salem, when Mr. Williams was united in holy matrimony to Miss Bessie May Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Stone. The Rev. Frank B. Thomas, pastor of the Little Flatrock Christian church was the officiating minister. The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John O. Williams, of New Salem.

The home was tastefully decorated with chrysanthemums and carnation. At 5:30 the contracting parties, preceded by the minister, came into the presence of the assembled guests, where the ceremony was performed. The bride was beautifully gowned in blue silk, trimmed in white and carried tea roses.

The wedding supper was immediately served after congratulations. Only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom were among the guests. After the supper the guests departed wishing for this splendid young couple the best that life affords.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams will be at home after Nov. 15th to receive their friends.

Governor Hanly will have a good, loyal working majority to support him in his splendid reforms in the legislature which meets next January. Most of his recommendations are such as will not admit even a partisan opposition. They are so clearly in the interest of good government, to root out graft and insure faithful and honest administration of public trust, that honest Democrats will not find excuse to oppose them. If they do, if the Democratic party commits the folly of going in blindly against reform and for graft, there will be plenty of Republican votes to pass all the worthy measures.

It is usually the case that when a woman makes a misstep she is condemned and ostracized, more particularly by her own sex. That this sentiment is undergoing a change and common sense and reason is taking the place, is shown by the news from Wabash which says that Mrs. Freeman has been forgiven, and a complete reconciliation between husband and wife, has taken place, and there is once more a happy and peaceful home. But the strangest part in this affair is that instead of Mrs. Freeman being ostracized by society, the people of Wabash felt that this one wrong ought not to blast all her hopes and that her children have a right to happiness. Her friends who have been her companions in social affairs have come to her to express their respect for her and faith in her being the victim of circumstances. She will be received again in the best of society. This certainly reads like "stranger than fiction," but it is refreshing to know it is true, and that public sentiment is undergoing such a change that society can forgive a woman who has been led astray. How many women and girls could have been saved from a life of shame, misery and degradation had they been forgiven after their first downfall. If psychology of sex was studied more and understood better by people at large a multitude of such cases, and the motives and peculiar actions generally of men and women would better understood and a great deal that receives severe censure would be judged more intelligently, and perhaps the criticism would not be quite so harsh. After all, man is but human

To Name Next Speaker of House Is Being Conceded.

Indianapolis, Ind., November 12.—The speaker of the house probably will be named by Governor Hanly. The latter may not take a hand openly for any candidate, although it is not likely that he would hesitate if he thought he ought to mix that way. On the quiet, however, his followers among the members will be given to understand that he has a choice. Inquiry among the men who managed the campaign reveals the feeling that the governor ought to be permitted to have his say as to who shall preside over the house. He can't have his say in the senate, as Lieutenant Governor Miller has been elected to preside over that body, but it is believed that the lieutenant governor is in sympathy with the governor in most matters. Inasmuch as the party is behind the governor in most of the reforms he has advocated, many of the leaders are saying that he should have full sway in carrying them out. None of them are showing any disposition to dictate, while on the other hand it is apparent that the members are looking to the governor for guidance. At least one member who is known to have had strong desire to preside over the house and who would have had a very considerable following, went to him and stated that he wanted to be a candidate for speaker. The governor told him frankly that he didn't want him for the position and advised him not to run. The member decided then and there to keep out, and his name is not being mentioned for the place.

It would not be surprising if Condo or Edwards should be elected speaker of the Indiana house of representatives. Condo is the best known throughout the state, although Edwards has served two sessions, while Condo has but one to his credit. Condo became generally known by his advocacy two years ago of a bill to abolish capital punishment. Governor Hanly favored it, but it never passed the house. Condo's chances were brighter than Edwards' until the day after the election, when it was found that the Republicans had lost ground in the northern half of the state and had gained in the southern. Ordinarily Condo would have had about seven or eight members of the legislature in his own district to start with, but the landslide left him with but two votes besides his own. The other northern Indiana districts did not do much better, while it is on the tongue of all politicians now that the southern half of the state saved the house for the Republicans. This is the situation that confronts Condo and makes his sledding rough. The governor likes him personally, but is not committed to him. He also likes Edwards, and the disposition of the party leaders to recognize the southern half of the state may cause him to lean toward Edwards and to select him as his candidate.

Representatives Condo, Branch and Edwards have been to see the governor since the election regarding their candidacy for speaker, but he has not promised to support any of them. They were all in the house last session and were very friendly to him. The governor wants a man for speaker in whom he can rely absolutely in any emergency. The indications are that he will be in a bruising contest right from the jump, as the special interests he has opposed will use all their strength to defeat him. It is the belief of politicians generally that the coming session will be the occasion for the gathering of the most powerful lobby any Indiana legislature has had within the last ten years. The governor anticipates opposition from the lobby, and he wants to be fortified by having a man in the speaker's chair who can help him fight. He knows he can depend on Lieutenant Governor Miller in the senate.

It would not be surprising if Joe Cravens of Madison should be elected floor leader of the Democrats in the coming house of representatives. There is talk of giving him the complimentary vote for speaker. He will not only be the oldest Democrat in point of continuous service, but he has been elected three times from a strongly Republican county, which is an honor that has befallen no other member of his party. Cravens is popular and is also so well informed on public matters that he would make a good floor leader for the Democrats.

Representative Elliott of Wayne and Fayette counties, who was here today, announced himself a candidate for speaker of the Indiana house of representatives. He served during the last session and made a good, conservative record. Elliott was one of the few Republican legislative candidates in his part of the state to run ahead of his ticket.

A Mere Raid of Robbers.
Pretoria, Nov. 12.—Captain Smut, who commanded a Boer detachment in the late war, says that Ferreira and his men are merely robbers and that the stories of a Boer uprising are pure moonshine. Considering the number of ne'er-do-wells who have recently gone into the German territory, it is surprising the captain says, that similar occurrences have not been reported before.

FOR ROBBING ODIN BANK
Three Men Arrested at Terre Haute Locked Up to Await Trial.

Centralia, Ill., Nov. 12.—The alleged Odin bank robbers who blew up the bank at Odin, eight miles north of here on October 26, and who were arrested at Terre Haute, Ind., last week by William Dwyer, chief of detectives of that city, have been placed safely behind the bars of the Marion county jail at Salem. The men were arrested under the names of Robert J. Sullivan, Harry Coleman, alias George Miller, and William A. Tracy, alias George Thompson, alias George Arnold.

Requisition papers were obtained on the governor of Indiana for the surrender of the men. The prisoners attempted to prove an alibi, but later admitted they were in Illinois at the time of the Odin bank robbery. They were identified by six responsible citizens who went to Terre Haute. The prisoners will be tried at the next term of the Marion county circuit court. Twenty-five hundred dollars, the entire contents of the Odin bank, was taken. The prisoners had money deposited in two banks at Louisville when arrested.

WHOLE CITY SHOOK

Tiflis the Scene of the Latest Russian Bomb Disaster.

POLICE FELL INTO TRAP
Lured Into a Deserted House by Cunning Tip the Police Became Victims of a Bomb.

The Entire City Was Shaken by the Force of the Terrific Explosion.

Tiflis, Nov. 12.—A deafening bomb explosion occurred on Pethanski street at an early hour Sunday morning while the police were making a search of an unoccupied house. The noise of the explosion was audible for a great distance and the entire city was shaken. Three policemen were killed and four wounded.

The police discovered some revolutionary proclamations under a bed in one of the rooms. They then went to a window and pulled aside a curtain. There was a flash of blue flame, followed immediately by the explosion, the force of which was so great that the body of a sergeant, one of the men killed, was hurled over a neighboring roof. The whole upper portion of the house fell in. It is apparent that a snare had been arranged and the police lured into it. The police received a tip to search this particular house, which is located in the Tartar quarter of the city and which has not been inhabited since the Tartar- Armenian massacres of last year.

Last Revolutionary Widow Dead.
Rutland, Vt., Nov. 12.—Mrs. Esther Sumner Damon, said to be the last surviving widow of a soldier of the revolutionary war, is dead at her home in Plymouth Union at the age of 93 years. She was married in 1835, when she was twenty-one years old, to Noah Damon, who was then seventy-five years of age. Damon served through the Revolutionary war, having enlisted in 1775.

STOMACH'S IMPORTANCE

How to Strengthen it so That it Will Act as it Should

The stomach is the principal organ concerned in the digestion of food. If it is weak, inactive or out of order and unable to properly digest the food, the body will soon be in a state of semi-starvation. Then, too, when the stomach is weak, the food is not properly digested and lies in it for hours, decomposing, fermenting and forming poisonous gases and ptomaines that are absorbed into the blood. To enjoy good health, it is absolutely necessary that the stomach and digestive organs should be strong, and no other remedy equals Mi-o-na in strengthening and giving tone to the whole digestive system.

Relief from the use of Mi-o-na is permanent and lasting. ManZan Pile Cure CURES WHEN OTHERS FAIL

A DANGEROUS MISTAKE.

Rushville Mothers Should not Neglect Kidney Weakness in Children.

Most children have weak kidneys. The earliest warning is bed-wetting. Later comes backache, headache, languor.

'Tis a mistake to neglect these troubles. To blame the child for its own distress. Seek to cure the kidneys—Save the child from deadly kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys.

Mrs. Charles Petet, of 27 North Vine St., Shelbyville, Ind., says: I was sent to a drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills to give to my little boy, who was afflicted with nocturnal weakness of the kidneys, caused by an attack of scarlet fever. There has been no cessation of the trouble until I gave him this remedy, although we have given him other medicines and prescriptions, which failed to relieve him. Doan's Kidney Pills brought such prompt relief that I highly recommend them for children with weak kidneys.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Company, Buffalo, New York, sole agent for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The Young Man's Store

We don't believe that another store in town caters to the clothes-wants of young men in just the same way, or nearly so well as we do.

The demand of the young man for clothes original in design, appreciably more radical in cut and livelier in pattern than the clothes made for older men, is met in this store in a way that no other clothier in town attempts.

Garson-Meyer Clothes for young men are distinctly young men's clothes. They are just the sort of clothes that spirited young fellows demand—smarter, more dashing in cut, and better made than any other ready-for-service clothes produced for the same sort of wearers.

AMUSEMENTS

A genuine tramp, a detective, a life insurance agent, a wealthy rogue and a deceitful husband, a persecuted wife and mother, a beautiful daughter and a village ne'er-do-well, are the principal characters which go to make up Manager U. D. Newell's comedy sensation "A Jolly American Tramp," which will be presented at the opera house Tuesday, Nov. 13th. The play is from the pen of Edward E. Kidder, a playwright who is responsible for more tender, touching, pathetic, heart-interesting plays than any other author now before the public. His "Peaceful Valley" and "A Poor Relation" made Sol. Smith Russell famous and a millionaire. In this work he promises to surpass his other efforts, and give to us a piece that for stirring situations, startling climaxes, as well as heart-touching interest cannot be surpassed. Manager Newell has cast "A Jolly American Tramp" with care, selecting only artists eminently fitted for their respective roles.

Do You Know How Hard Your Wife Works?

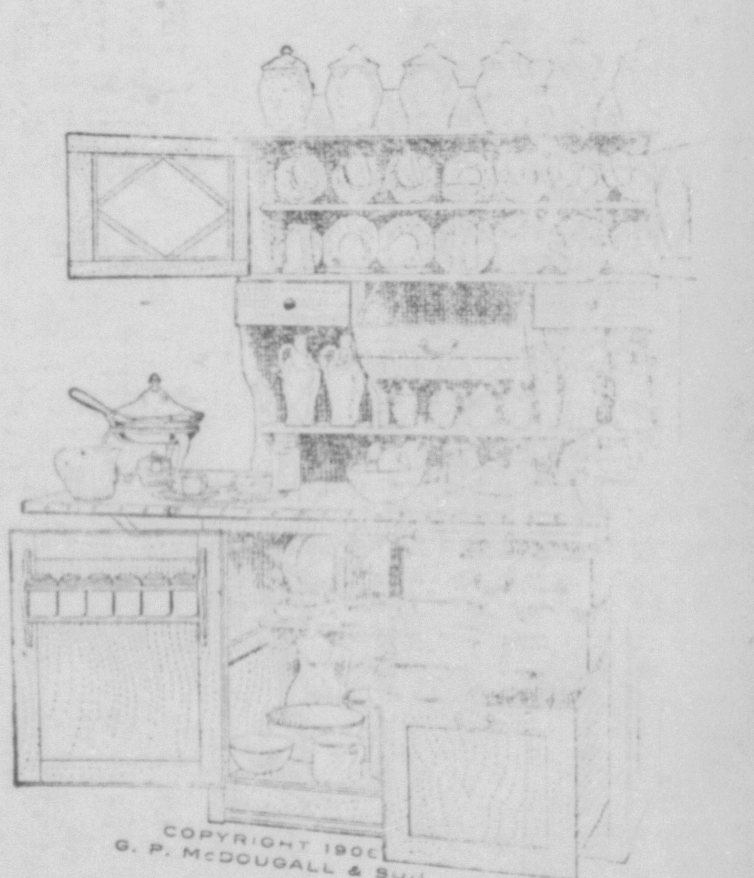

Do you know what grinding, cheerless drudgery the kitchen demands? Isn't it hard enough without asking her to do twice as much work as is necessary? You're doing just that—and wasting good money in kitchen supplies—if you're making her get along without a

A McDougall Kitchen Cabinet.

But if you want a Cabinet that will cut her work in two and pay for itself in the supplies it saves, get a genuine McDougall, not an imitation.

The McDougall is dust proof, doesn't collect grease and vermin, doesn't warp and will last a life time. The "made-to-sell" imitation is entirely different.

You're a lucky man if you take advantage of our Special Sale this week. You can get your wife a real McDougall at the same price of a poorly constructed imitation. The Special Prices range from $18.50 to $28.00. We have a Cabinet in our stock to suit every need and purse.
